

Pikes Peak International Hill Climb – Results 1920

The Nineteen Twenties

World War I interrupted the “Race to the Clouds” but local interest produced a restart on Labor Day in 1920. Then as economic times worsened, interest declined. By 1928, the Labor Day Race attracted only six Open Wheel entries and three Stock Cars.

Labor Day was set as Race Day and remained so until 1958.

Record wins are in italics.
